

TRACES HISTORY OF SPIRITUALISM

Origin a Hoax and is Successful
Simply Because People Like to be Fooled Says Dr. J. J.
Walsh.

Doctor James J. Walsh of New York city addressed the students of Notre Dame university yesterday on spiritualism. At the beginning of his talk Doctor Walsh made a distinction between spiritism and spiritualism, saying that the former signified the accidental and the appearance of spirit which is totally unexpected by men and that spiritualism meant the manifestations of spirits at the special request of men. The first has occurred at times in history but the truth of the latter is highly improbable.

Doctor Walsh then traced the history of spiritualism, showing how its origin was a hoax and that all the subsequent teachings set forth by spiritualism were also hoaxes. The speakers referred to the first evidences of spiritualism that occurred in Egypt and Syria long before Christianity was established and then brought the discussion up to the foundation of modern spiritualism by the Fox sisters in Rochester, N. Y.

These women created a great deal of attention for a time but were finally exposed by Doctor Austin Flint, who discovered that they produced their spirit rappings by properly manipulating the bones and cords of their feet. The impostor Slade for a long time caused even university professors to think that at last communication had been established with the world of spirits. The Seibert commission proved that Slade was simply a clever slight of hand artist. He also cited the case of Madame Paladino who for a long time started people with the results of her seances till she was detected by conjurers in Boston and denounced as false.

In conclusion Doctor Walsh stated that "spiritualism is a success chiefly because some people wished to be fooled and even when their beliefs are proved to be absurd they will not give them up." This is Doctor Walsh's first lecture at Notre Dame this fall. In past years he has lectured on various subjects among which are: "The Nervous System," "Dante," "Leonardo di Vinci," "The Digestive Apparatus" and many others concerning medicine, history, literature and education. He is dean and professor of nervous diseases at Fordham university and professor of pathological psychology at St. Xavier's college in New York.

EXPECT BIG SALE OF XMAS STAMPS

All Societies in the State Will Make Strong Efforts to Exceed the Sales Made Last Year.

Diligent work toward wiping out tuberculosis in Indiana is being done throughout the state this year, the effort growing in magnitude and activity as the Christmas season comes on, when much of the money needed in the continuous campaign is rounded up through the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals. There are nearly 70 societies for the study and prevention of tuberculosis in this state, all of them will be very busy in pushing the sale of Christmas seals this season. At the head of all these organizations is the state society, with headquarters at 293 Public Savings building, Indianapolis, which has general direction of the white plague crusade and the sale of Christmas seals. All of the state organizations are banded in a national association with headquarters at New York.

Allied with the county and local anti-tubercular societies in the sale of Christmas seals is the Indiana Federation of Clubs, which has named a special committee to help organize the selling forces throughout the state, and the Indiana Nurses' association is helping through a special committee to the same end. County superintendents of schools, associations and societies are joining in the effort to raise a great white plague fund through the sale of the bright little seals.

Much educational work against the white plague and for the sale of the seals has been done this year all over the state. Health authorities and other speakers have been discussing the prevention of tuberculosis at county fairs, Chautauquas and at other meetings. In a number of counties hospitals for the treatment of tubercular victims have been erected and others are under way.

A more vigorous campaign for the sale of the seals will be waged this season than ever and an active effort is being made to get them within the easy reach of the public in cities, towns and on the farms. The state headquarters now has its first supply of 4,000,000 seals and has begun the distribution to county and local selling agencies, while a second order has been placed for 4,000,000 to be held until further demand develops in December. The sales will open everywhere about Nov. 25 and will continue until Jan. 1.

My Direct Treatment for Kidney, Bladder, Enlarged Prostate Gland and Obstructions

That disorder commonly known as weakness has for years and generations baffled the efforts of physicians, yet to this very day a majority of doctors, specialists not excepted, are attempting to overcome it by methods that have been in constant use and have always failed for half a century. They dose the system with powerful stimulants and tonics, calculated to restore nervous force or strength that is not and never has been lacking, with a result that the functions are temporarily excited to the positive detriment of the patient. Weakness—I call it such for convenience just now—is only a symptom resulting from a chronically swollen and inflamed prostate gland, and is curable by local treatment only. Either early discharges or some improper treatment contracted diseases is responsible for the inflammation in most instances, through accident, injury, strain, etc., may produce the same result. I permanently cure these cases of prematureness, loss of vigor, etc., without the giving of a single internal dose, which demonstrates the absolute accuracy of my understanding and treatment of this disorder, and I have entire confidence in my ability to cure all cases that come to me for treatment. I am equally certain that no treatment other than that which I have perfected can completely and permanently restore strength and vigor.
